

NYSSCSW Creativity & Neuro-Psycho-Ed Committee

Report November 2023

Since the publication of the Society's previous Clinician, we have offered a plethora of opportunities for participation by our members. In September, Inna conceptualized, researched, and hosted two events: First Neuropsychanalytic Grand Round @ORI, on the topic of "Transdisciplinary Approach to Beholder Share Phenomenon: Neuropsychanalysis, Arts, and Psychohistory" (9/03/23, <https://orinyc.org/neuropsychanalytic-grand-rounds-ori-transdisciplinary-approach-to-beholder-share-phenomenon-neuropsychanalysis-arts-and-psychohistory/>), and a 5-week CE course, "Neuropsychanalysis: Attachment and Object Relations through the Lens of Functional Neuropsychobiology and Brain Mapping" (9/07/23-10/05/23, <https://orinyc.org/neuropsychanalysis-attachment-and-object-relations-through-the-lens-of-functional-neuropsychobiology-and-brain-mapping/>).

Sandra led a visit to the Whitney Museum for members to enjoy and learn from Ruth Asawa's exhibition, her visual life story, mother of 6 children, visual artist, master of a multitude of mediums.

Upcoming Events:

December 16, 2023 (Saturday), New Museum, 235 Broadway, "Judy Chicago"- feminist.

January 7, 2024 (Sunday, 11am), Neue Galerie, 1048 Fifth Avenue, "Max Beckman, Crisis and Rediscovery." Phone: 212.628.6200.

Museums offer free on-line tours of their exhibits.

Dr. Inna hosts a free virtual conference on November 18 (Saturday, 12-3pm): "Born of Love: Two Books Celebrating the Work of Michael Eigen." RSVP is required via the website: <https://mindmendmedia.com/born-of-love-two-books-celebrating-the-work-of-michael-eigen/>

Also, another virtual CE seminar is planned for March 10, 2024: "A Plea for a Measure of Abnormality: Transdisciplinary Approach to Understanding & Embracing Neurodiversity" (<https://orinyc.org/a-plea-for-a-measure-of-abnormality-transdisciplinary-approach-to-understanding-embracing-neurodiversity/>).

It is our pleasure to answer your questions and hear of your wish to attend any of our events. More detailed information will follow on our list-serve.

Your interest is appreciated.

Sandra Indig, psych4arts@hotmail.com

Inna Rozentsvit, Inna.Rozentsvit@gmail.com